Declares Price Controls Must Stay To Battle Inflation

Vinson Warns Price Controls Must Continue

Secretary Of Treasury Points Out Need In Battle Against Inflation

TESTIFIES BEFORE HOUSE COMMITTEE

WASHINGTON, March 27.—(INS)—Secretary of the Treasury Fred M. Vinson called today for continuation of price controls and declared that extension of the stabilization act "is the biggest single aspect of our battle against inflation."

Vinson warned that the act must have "no crippling amendments."

The secretary testified before the house banking and currency committee. He said:

More Optimistic
"Today we can be more optimistic about the future than ever before. It would be pathetic if we muffed this grand opportunity. We must maintain our controls over inflation a little longer."

Vinson took issue with the National Association of Manufacturers and others who advocate an end to price controls.

He declared:
"These people consciously or unconsciously overlook the needs of the interim period. Although we are well on our way of peace-time production, we cannot produce enough tomorrow or the next day to meet the demand that has accumulated over months."

"During that period the removal of price control would be stimulating—inflation in a fanciful, dizzy sort of way."

PA NEW OBSERVES

Fog provided something of a traffic handicap during the night and early this morning for motorists. Early this morning the fog was quite dense in the city.

Yesterday we noticed another sign of advancing spring. A man got off the bus on South Mill street carrying two peck baskets of dandelions he had gathered during the morning.

Building restrictions which were announced by the government may occasion delay in a number of building projects announced for New Castle, it is feared. Further details on the program are being awaited.

An Oak street resident reported to Pa New, Tuesday, that the greatest piece of sneak thievery that she had heard of in a long time, occurred, Monday, in her home. Someone walked into the house, up to the bathroom, and took a small gas stove there and walked out with it. The mystery is, how it was done, when someone was home all day.

Harty Barr, of Pine street, deserves much credit for the able way that he has been taking care of the honor roll located at the corner of Pearson and East Washington street. Mr. Barr, during the evenings, can be seen spending his spare time, beautifying the corner, making it one of the outstanding corners in the city.

Pa New observed one woman entering the post office, Tuesday afternoon, hurriedly placing her package up to the Parcel Post window, stating, "I'm in a hurry, I'm doing the laundry here and I think I've misplaced a word on the package." The postal clerk noted on the package, "unsolicited."

Parley Resumed Under Pressure Of Scheduled Mine Strike Next Week

LITTLE HOPE FOR EARLY AGREEMENT

WASHINGTON, March 27.—(INS)—Soft coal wage negotiations resumed today under the pressure of a scheduled mine strike that may force another steel shutdown and cripple reconversion anew.

U. M. W. President John L. Lewis has terminated the existing bituminous wage agreement as of midnight Sunday and emphatically announced that his 400,000 soft coal miners "will not work next week."

Federal labor officials indicated that they would await developments during the next day or two before taking any action Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach is expected back from a west coast trip tomorrow or Friday.

May Freeze Supplies
The Solid Fuels Administration, however, was drafting an order "Freezing" coal supplies at the mines and allocating them for such essential users as hospitals, food processing plants and utilities.

A top Labor department official said there was "no serious thought" being given at present to government seizure of mines.

Spokesmen for the coal operators said they hope that it will now be possible "to get down to business" in the negotiations and find out from Lewis "what the miners really want."

Two Killed; 16 Hurt In Jumps

Men Leap From Burning Truck As It Speeds Along New Jersey Highway

MT. HOLLY, N. J., March 27.—(INS)—Two workmen were killed today and 16 others were hurt when they jumped from a burning truck as it sped along a highway near Mt. Holly.

The dead were identified as Rocco Damato, of Camden, and M. Brantley, of Philadelphia. Taiolo Giadano, of Camden, was pronounced in critical condition.

Police said the men jumped after their efforts to signal the driver that the truck was ablaze failed. Some of the injured also were burned before they jumped.

Blame Cigarette
The fire was believed to have started from a carelessly tossed cigarette.

As the flames spread, the men leaped to the highway, many of them lying helpless until ambulances and other trucks arrived. The driver, unaware of the fire or tragedy, drove to Jobstown, where he was stopped by a passerby.

The men were employed by a private contractor working for the Pennsylvania Railroad, and were on their way to work at the time.

State police immediately launched an investigation.

United States And France Sign Trade Agreement

WASHINGTON, March 27.—(INS)—The United States and France today signed a bilateral trade agreement opening up vast new routes in the Pacific to the airlines of both powers.

The agreement, released simultaneously in Washington and Paris, parallels that signed with Great Britain at Bermuda on February 11. France had awaited reaching an agreement with the U. S.-British pact was signed and the current accord is expected to set the pace for other western European countries.

Sign in Paris
The signing took place in Paris between American Ambassador Jefferson Caffery and French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault.

Under it still-to-be-agreed-on airlines will be permitted to carry passengers and traffic to and from the other's territory, though not within the other's lands.

France is permitted to operate to the United Nations site, in the first agreement to mention it as an air terminal. France also can operate to Boston, New York and Washington across the North Atlantic; to Chicago via Montreal; to Mexico via New York; across Martinique and Guadeloupe via Puerto Rico to the Dominican Republic and Haiti; and to Indo-China via Hong Kong and Manila.

Lancaster Warehouse Destroyed By Flames

Damage Of $1,000,000 Reported As 1,400 Tons Of Tobacco Are Destroyed

LANCASTER, Pa., March 27.—(INS)—Damage estimated at $1,000,000 was caused today by a fire which swept through a four-story Lancaster warehouse and destroyed 1,400 tons of tobacco.

The heat in the warehouse, owned by the Pennsylvania Railroad, was so intense that steel shutters, bolted to the windows, were blown off.

The interior of the building was destroyed, and firemen said the tobacco probably would smolder for days. Part of Lancaster's electric power was shut off as a precaution against live broken high-tension wires.

UE & F Co. Leases New Castle Plant From Government

Long Negotiations For Operation Of Engineering Plant Here Are Completed

PLANT IS ALREADY FULLY RECONVERTED

Announcement was made today by K. C. Gardner Sr., president of United Engineering Company, of the leasing of the New Castle plant by the company, from the War Assets Corporation. The lease is for three years with two one year options.

Negotiations for the leasing of the plant by United have been under way for some time with the government. These negotiations have now been completed and the lease is signed.

Fully Reconverted
The plant is fully reconverted to peace time use. Howard B. Cummings, plant superintendent said today. Both the six inch and eight inch shell lines used during the war have been dismantled about 70 per cent of the equipment shipped to storage and the 240 millimeter gun line is entirely disposed of.

The outlook for the immediate future of the plant is good, Mr. Cummings said, and a trip through the machine shop and foundry verify this statement. Huge castings are in the molding pits or in the planers and boring mills and finished product is waiting to be shipped.

1400 Are Employed Now
Some fourteen hundred employees are busy and the company is seeking boring mill, lathe and planer mechanics. Pattern makers are needed badly. The employment totals will be increased as fast as skilled men are available.

In peace time operation the company will manufacture rolling mill equipment, forging presses and generators. (Continued on Page Two)

Thomas-Reuther Battle Reaches Voting Stage

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., March 27.—(INS)—Delegates to the 10th annual convention of the CIO United Auto Workers today reverted to the ballot to determine whether the world's largest union was to change its top leadership.

At stake in today's vote was the presidency of the union held since 1939 by 45-year-old rotund R. J. Thomas, who has the support of both CIO Chief Philip Murray and the left wing group controlled by UAW Secretary-Treasurer George F. Addes.

Union Split
The opposition offered by Vice President Walter P. Reuther was vitriolic. The 38-year-old red-headed leader of the union's General Motors department spared no political haymakers in the controversy which rocked the union and split its one million membership right down the middle.

Thomas campaigned primarily on his past record with promises to continue the same type of leadership.

Reuther, on the other hand, campaigned for his "ability to pay" theories of securing wage increases and offered a long program which he said he would put into effect should he be elected.

On the eve of the election both Thomas and Reuther predicted victory and, oddly enough, both thought they would win by a margin of "at least 700 votes."

Churchill Attends Session Of Commons

Repatriated Japanese Diplomats Found To Have Much Contraband

URUGA, Japan, March 27.—(INS)—Vigilant American search teams uncovered thousands of skillfully-hidden American dollars and a large quantity of contraband diamonds and other jewels when they "frisked" the baggage of Japanese diplomats repatriated from Europe.

Doctors and nurses used fluoroscopes on the surprised Japanese in search for clues to the disappearance of millions of dollars of Japanese assets believed undeclared to repatriation authorities.

It was believed the Japanese brought with them currency and jewels valued at five million dollars. American Army officers said every nook and cranny of the Japanese ship which brought the repatriates from Europe via Manila will be searched.

Ship Under Guard
The ship has been under heavy guard since it reached Uraga yesterday, after being trailed from Okinawa by an American destroyer.

Today's search included only 24 of the 360 repatriates being processed before they leave the ship. Early finds included three huge (Continued on Page Two)

Hoover Probing Food Conditions In Soviet Sphere

PARIS, March 27.—(INS)—Herbert Hoover was flying across Europe today in search of hunger behind Russia's "iron curtain."

Less than 24 hours after returning from Rome by way of Geneva, America's only living ex-president left Paris aboard a special C-54 airplane and headed for the heart of the Soviet sphere of influence in eastern Europe to gather information on the food shortage situation.

First scheduled stop on this lap of Hoover's merrily mission is Prague, where he is expected to spend a couple of days.

Hoover had hoped to visit Poland after Czechoslovakia, but up to the time he left Paris the Polish embassy had failed to get clearance for him from the Warsaw government.

Need Soviet Approval
Embassy spokesmen claimed the delay was due to the necessity for any foreigner—even a former president—to get approval from the Soviet government.

Korean Mining Executive Faces Term In Prison

Convicted Of Aiding Japanese To Disrupt American Occupation Policies

TOKYO, March 27.—(INS)—Allied headquarters today announced the conviction of a Korean mining executive on charges of accepting money from Japanese to disrupt American occupation policies.

This was the first revealed case of a so-called "intellectual land-mine" planted by the Japanese to hinder occupation forces.

The mining executive was identified as Kim Kei Cho and was fined heavily and sentenced to five years at hard labor.

The case was pointed to as an illustration of a warning voiced several months ago by Brig. Gen. Elliott R. Thorpe, former chief of counter-intelligence for General MacArthur.

Thorpe said that the Japanese had trained and paid operatives throughout the Orient to hamper the Allies wherever possible.

The Koreans conviction was based on evidence that Japanese officials left him three million one hundred thousand yen ($206,000) to entertain American officers in Korea, learn plans and try to influence decisions.

A Korean court fined him the total amount of money left to him by the Japanese.

Franco's Cabinet May Be Reshuffled

MADRID, March 27.—(INS)—Well-informed quarters in Madrid buzzed today with reports that Generalissimo Franco's cabinet may undergo a re-shuffling by April 1.

Indications were that some elder statesmen wish to retire, and that the change would not entail a reduction of Spanish Fascist cabinet members.

Compromise Is Sought To Meet Russian Threat

Soviet Ambassador Tells U. N. O. He Will Withdraw If Iran Case Is Pushed

SECURITY COUNCIL NEAR DISRUPTION

(BULLETIN)

NEW YORK, March 27.—(INS)—Efforts by a three-nation subcommittee to find a formula for solution of the dispute between Soviet Russia and Iran failed today two hours before the security council of the U. N. O. was scheduled to reconvene at Hunter College to resume its international deliberations.

NEW YORK, March 27.—(INS)—A compromise designed to overcome Russia's threat to walk out of the United Nations security council meeting if the Soviet-Iranian dispute is to be aired immediately today was in the making.

Up until mid-afternoon, major world power representatives had an opportunity to persuade the Russians that Iranian Ambassador Hossein Ala be permitted to present a "limited statement" on his country's grievances against the Soviet Union—with the proviso that thereafter the security council would recess further consideration of the dispute until April 10.

Seek Agreement
A special sub-committee composed of representatives of the United States, Russia and France was trying to pull together an agreement which almost disrupted the whole security council meeting last night.

Major Problems Before UNRRA

Seek To Cope With Famine Conditions Feared Next Winter In Europe

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., March 27.—(INS)—The UNRRA council tackled four major problems today in an attempt to complete its work tomorrow night.

The first—and biggest—is the problem of how to persuade the food-rich countries to produce more and to waste less in order that Europe may avoid its worst famine next winter.

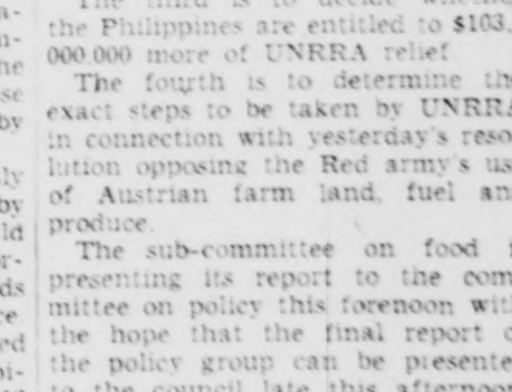

The second is to take final action on the U. N. resolution, which continues protection for displaced persons who are afraid to return home.

The third is to decide whether the Philippines are entitled to $103,000,000 more of UNRRA relief.

The fourth is to determine the exact steps to be taken by UNRRA in connection with yesterday's resolution opposing the Red army's use of Austrian farm land, fuel and produce.

The sub-committee on food is presenting its report to the committee on policy this forenoon with the hope that the final report of the policy group can be presented to the council late this afternoon.

There are artists who paint in pastel tones, proficient in form and in line, and others who write, say, a sonnet indite and give the world reading that's fine. But others there are who are artists with tools, with hatchet and chisel and saw, who create just the same as an artist with oils, who follow the artistic law. And I've watched such a couple of artists of late who are clever in work and design, and I claim they are artists for what they produce; the weather is warm, sixty-nine.

UNRRA Council Told Rationing Is Not Approved

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., March 27.—(INS)—The announcement in Washington that President Truman's famine emergency committee is opposed to a return to food rationing fell like a bombshell on the UNRRA council meeting today.

A sub-committee on food was in executive session drafting a resolution calling for belt-tightening in well-fed countries when the news arrived.

A meeting of the 48-nation policy committee originally called for 10:30 a. m. was postponed to 2:45 p. m. to give the sub-committee more time to discuss developments.

Its report was expected to urge rationing in producer countries, greater food conservation and increased production.

Army Officers To Be Called Before Board In Capital

Officers Accused Of Abusing Privileges Of Rank Will Answer Summons

WASHINGTON, March 27.—(INS)—Lt. Gen. James H. Doolittle disclosed today that Army officers accused by GIs of abusing the privileges of rank will be called before his "board" investigating board.

Doolittle and his fellow board members, who include two former enlisted men, held a secret meeting this morning and were told by Secretary of War Patterson:

"The investigation is all yours. There are no strings attached."

Later, at a news conference, Doolittle announced that officers against whom complaints have been lodged will be called for "information."

The six-man board will meet again tomorrow in quarters made available in Washington by the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

Patterson announced appointment of the group March 18 and said it was established to give critics of the Army's so-called caste system full opportunity to air their grievances.

Zelenople Will Be Scene Of Lutheran Spring Convention

Lutheran pastors and lay delegates of the United Lutheran churches of New Castle and vicinity will meet for their Spring convention at the Lutheran Old People's Home, Zelenople, next Monday morning, with sessions being carried over into the afternoon.

The convention will open with the administration of the Sacrament of the Holy Communion, followed by the sermon of Rev. C. S. Hayner, R. R. Rochester, president of the West Conference.

At the business meeting, which will include an election of conference officers, nominations to committees and boards of the Pittsburgh Synod and selection of delegates to the United Lutheran Church convention at Cleveland, in October, will take place.

Following dinner, plans are to be presented for a supplementary ministerial pension and the beginning of an appeal for $100,000 for the addition of a chapel wing to the old folks home.

Plans will also be discussed for changes in the Common Service Book, official hymnal of the United Lutheran churches throughout the United States.

eral mill equipment. Mr. Gardner stated that the continued use of the New Castle plant will afford the company increased facilities for operation in its field, at double the capacity they had before the war.

Much Automobile Equipment

Much of the work now on the floor is destined for automobile plants throughout the country, and this equipment is being rushed.

The announcement of the leasing of the plant is welcome news in New Castle. It puts into operation one of the world's finest plants for the manufacture of heavy mill and forging equipment, provides work for many hundreds and means much to the general welfare of this city.

There is scant hope, however, of reaching an agreement this week.

A work stoppage of some duration was regarded as virtually inevitable. Lewis said there would be "no extension" of the existing contract and asserted that the miners "in a major sense" would be taking "a badly needed rest."

How Long Delay

The principal question was how long the work stoppage would last. The UMW chief said the union would try to make any agreement negotiated in Washington effective at the earliest possible moment.

Harry Moses, U. S. Steel executive representing steel company mines, said the effect of a coal strike would be felt "immediately" as mills begin to cut back to save coal. He said some steel plants will be able to continue reduced operations for 30 days or longer.

Lewis contended, however, that there was an average of 28 days supply of coal in storage February 1. He said electric utilities had 78 days supply, coke ovens 31 days, steel and rolling mills 28 days, cement mills 46 days and railroads 27 days.

"We're hopeful that long before any shortage of coal affects major industrial concerns that an agreement will be reached. Our action was taken at a time of least inconvenience to the public. The burning season is over and there will be no discomfort for consumers."

The dock area in the vicinity of the ship is being patrolled by armed guards and patrol craft circle the vessel.

Fiat Broke

The U. S. embassy in Paris made a formal request to the Polish embassy last Saturday for permission for Hoover to visit Warsaw, but embarrassed Polish diplomats explained that it would take a little more time to secure Soviet approval.

The American elder statesman, who is credited with saving thousands of Europeans from starvation after World War I as food relief administrator, also plans to visit Finland, Norway, Denmark and Sweden on this trip.

He is seeking first-hand information for his report to President Truman on what is needed from the U. S. to prevent widespread famine in Europe between now and harvest time.

DECLARES TAXES MUST STAY HIGH

WASHINGTON, March 27.—(INS)—Secretary of the Treasury Fred M. Vinson declared today that "taxes must remain high."

Vinson, in his testimony before the house banking and currency committee urging extension of the stabilization act, declared:

"Expenditures are smaller than the estimates made at the time of President Truman's budget."

"In fact, our expenditures in February were three billion 500 million dollars less than the high of nine billion 700 million dollars last June."

"In spite of this generally good situation, taxes must remain high and the burden of carrying the public debt is still significant."

"The raising of substantial revenues and the carrying of the public debt can both be done without undue burden to our economy."

The secretary implied that reductions in taxes can be expected as soon as the nation's economy, with full production and employment, is in high gear.

ation from the security council agenda. Soviet Ambassador Andrei Gromyko had served notice he would withdraw unless the whole matter was deferred until April 10.

Secretary of State James F. Byrnes, Sir Alexander Cadogan, the British council member, and others had insisted that the Iranian ambassador at least be heard, with decision on delay in council action to be taken up afterwards.

Had a vote been taken last night, it would have been problematical what the outcome of the current session of the powerful security council—or indeed the future of the United Nations Organization—might have been.

Avoid "Hasty Vote"

French Ambassador Henri Bonnet, however, at the last minute, stepped into the breach and proposed appointment of a sub-committee to study the matter in order to avoid "a hasty vote."

Gromyko, insisting that negotiations between his government and Iran were progressing to a satisfactory conclusion, had served up a question which he would walk out unless two more weeks time was given to iron out all differences between Moscow and Tehran.

The Russian ambassador asserted: "I could not, as representative of the Soviet government, participate in or attend meetings of the security council in which the security council discussed the substance of the question raised by the Iranian ambassador's letter."

Russian Position

Gromyko was referring to a letter Ambassador Ala had addressed to the security council on March 18 complaining of Russia's continued interference in Iran's internal affairs and her continuing occupation with troops of Iran in violation of a tripartite treaty were constituting a menace to future world peace and security.

The Russian position was that on March 24 a definite agreement had been reached with Iran which would pull the last 70,000 red troops out in five or six weeks, and that negotiations were still in progress on lesser matters. Although Gromyko had spoken at great length himself, he did not want to let Iranian Ambassador Ala have the privilege of the floor.

Committee members have received very little information on the atomic bomb project and the amount of money voted for that purpose during the war was not generally known to them.

Following the dropping of the first bomb on Hiroshima, it was announced that approximately two billion dollars was appropriated for that purpose. However, no mention of the "Manhattan Engineering District" has appeared in any appropriation bill.

The money appropriated was included in gigantic sums allocated for "expanding production" made available to the secretary of war and engineering service. Army. It appeared under the latter category in the last War department appropriation bill approved by Congress.

This action, it is alleged, was for the benefit of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics and "against the security of the United States of America."

MUSIC CLUB HEARS RUSSIAN PROGRAM

Music club met Tuesday evening in Highland U. P. church to hear a program of Russian music with Delbert Fletcher, host for the evening, presenting informative notes throughout the program.

He pointed out that Russia's musical history is divided into four periods: folk songs, early Greek church music, a period influenced by music from other countries, and its present one of prolific production which has been going on for the past 110 years.

This period produced Moussorgsky, Rimsky-Korsakoff, Tchaikovsky, Stravinsky, Prokofiev, Rachmaninoff, Shostakovich, and many other composers of note.

On the Russian part of the program were included songs by Helen Vancouver, Dorothy Gormley Smith, and Jean Melvin, a violin solo by Kathryn Bittner, and a piano selection by Barbara Schulz.

Remained of the program was composed of three Chopin numbers by James Grauel, pianist, and songs by Agnes O'Neill, Enola Patterson, and the double trio made up of Dorothy Patch, Pendue, director Jean Melvin, Ruth Weir, Lois Marion Smith, Frances Barnes, and Ethel Welther.

Accompanists for the evening were Mrs. Jay L. Reed, Mrs. Kathryn N. Allen, Miss Isobel Johnson, Miss Kathryn Newberry, Miss Shirley Gwin, and Edwin Lewis.

Mrs. T. J. McFate ushered.

During the business meeting, Mrs. Jay L. Reed, chairman of the nominating committee, presented the following slate of officers to be voted on at the April meeting: president, Mrs. George E. Strehler; first vice president, Mrs. Dorothy Gormley Smith; second vice president, Mrs. L. Paul Friend; recording secretary, Miss Kathryn Bittner; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Barbara Schulz; treasurer, Mrs. William Y. Gibson; assistant treasurer, Miss Emma Patton; retiring president, Mrs. Jay L. Reed; executive members, Mrs. S. Glenn McCracken, Miss Elsie Calvin.

Election meeting of the club will be held at 8 o'clock in the Sunday School room of the First Methodist church on April 30 when the music club presents an organ recital by Edwin Lewis. Mr. Lewis' recital will start at 8:30. The meeting will be open to the public.

Mrs. William J. Caldwell, director of the music club chorus, announced that enrollment will remain open for a few more weeks for those who wish to sing in "The Creation" to be sung on Sunday, May 19, in the First Methodist church.

A short meeting of the Executive board, called by Mrs. Strehler following adjournment of the regular meeting.

A Statement of Facts About Funeral Costs

Too little has been known about the cost of funerals. It is a subject that many people do not consider until the need for such service suddenly comes upon them. Then they have no basis for judging values, nor much idea of what costs should be.

To furnish information on this subject, the Boyd Home for Funerals publishes the following table. It shows the cost, by groups, of the last 250 adult funerals we have conducted. The costs shown cover our entire charges. Even the cement boxes or vaults used are included. The only further costs of these funerals was the amount paid to the cemetery for a grave.

OUR COMPLETE CHARGES FOR THE LAST 250 ADULT FUNERAL SERVICES

48 Services cost	$150 or less
14 Services cost from	$151 to $250
17 Services cost from	$251 to $350
56 Services cost from	$351 to $450
68 Services cost from	$451 to $600
26 Services cost from	$600 to $750
21 Services cost more than	$750

Nearly twenty per cent of these funerals cost $150 or less. More than one-third ranged between $150 and $450. About the same number preferred services costing from $450 to $600. In every instance the service selected was purely a matter of what the family desired.

The management of the Boyd Home for Funerals publishes this statement as a matter of public information. It is a summary of the judgment of our last 250 patrons in ordering funerals for adult persons.

We add but one other thought. It is our firm belief that funds needed to provide food and clothing for dependents never should be spent on expensive funerals.

War Loss In Dollars

A recent report of the Bank for International Settlements, Basel, Switzerland, could well be publicized in headlines in this country, used as sermon subjects and as lesson texts in schools. This is a summary of the cost of World War II, past and future. Weighing many factors, the value of the dollar and the like, the report states that up to the summer of 1945, the war cost was $1,352,000,000,000 or one trillion, three hundred and fifty-two billion dollars. This is about four times the cost of World War I.

The report stresses the premature death and impaired health to millions, deterioration of culture, and lowered birth rate as factors beyond the ability of figures to indicate. Material loss, aside from destruction of buildings, equipment, works of art and fertility of the soil, includes the general disorganization of the delicate mechanism of modern society the world over.

Dollars are a poor measuring stick for describing so colossal a tragedy as the war just ended, but there are people who understand the dollar sign better than any other symbol, and they should consider this report.

Ready In Air

When the war ended the gigantic United States Air Force was already obsolete. Research had produced many new types of faster and better planes. If the war had gone on, many of the old type planes would have been useless. On V-J Day the United States had the largest and most powerful air force in the world. Rapid demobilization has reduced the 2,400,000 men to 800,000, and all who do not wish to remain will be released.

Gen. Ike Eaker, deputy commander of the air force, announces that a long start has been made toward rebuilding this branch of the service. By June 30 there will be 400,000 volunteers and at least six wartime strength long range fighter and bomber groups. Although the United States is not divulging its types of military planes, they are to be the very best designed have produced and capable of speeds of more than 500 miles per hour. It is predicted a speed of 750 miles is being approached and will be exceeded.

The task of the American Air Force is to be in instant readiness to repel, through both speed and power, any attack from any quarter. The United States will maintain the nucleus of a strong air force, the core of a strength that can rapidly be built up. This country still has the best mechanics in the world, the best fliers and the biggest industry. It can build more rapidly than any other nation. General Eaker's assurance that there will soon be large air groups superbly equipped and ready for any eventuality is gratifying.

Gotham's Spring Cleaning

It appears that New York City is going to insist on cooperation from the public in keeping its streets clean. William J. Powell, the sanitation commissioner, says he veritably believes Gotham is the dirtiest city in the world.

The commissioner has enlarged his inspection staff from 40 to 100 men, and in the first two days of a concerted drive the enlarged group served 155 summonses on tenants, storekeepers and janitors for violations of the sanitary code. The summonses were issued for uncovered garbage receptacles, dirty sidewalks and tossing refuse in the streets.

One disturbing note offered by Mr. Powell was that some Manhattan residents had become so brazen that they had deposited garbage in the streets in the actual presence of sanitation inspectors.

"You wouldn't believe it," he added, "but a survey showed that litter had been tossed back into the street less than an hour after a sanitation truck had left."

Warnings to offenders had been tried in New York City, but apparently in vain, according to Mr. Powell. Since January 1, a total of 14,297 warnings had been passed out by the inspection staff. In the same period, 985 summonses had been issued.

Now, with the enlarged staff issuing summonses at the rate of more than seventy-five daily, some public interest in street sanitation may be expected. Something may be learned from this which will prove useful to other cities which, like New York, suffered from a shortage of sanitation department help and equipment during the war and inculcated a spirit of indifference in citizens.

But, as the saying goes, the war is over, and it's about time the fact be recognized.

Shortage of feed may force marketing of lean cattle. The old rule not to sell until the ribs are out of sight may be passing.

If the OPA is so crazy about price control it might look into the barbership schedules, which charge just as much for hair-cut on a bald-headed man as for one on a guy with a football mop.

One enterprising clothing dealer in Chicago is contemplating fixing up those booths where customers used to sit to try on a new suit, making them into one-room apartments.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

(Distributed By International News Service)

UNO hall, March 27.—(Delayed by natural causes)—My feet hurt.

The Security Council is meeting three callouses from the nearest subway.

If the idea was to get the Soviet delegates up here in the Bronx and lose them it's still a distinct possibility.

Gromyko looked baffled the first day. They drove him up and when he got out of the car he said "where is the premier?" He thought he stood on the border of Iran.

Hunter college is attended by girls from all over and as I see it now, that's why it was picked by the UNO. It is much closer to all over than it is to Manhattan.

But I have great hopes for the success of the conference. Men who must ride from 42nd street to 200th street in the subway can have no strength left to argue very long.

Now with Barney Baruch it's different. He stood right up in Washington and told the pre-in-the-sky brethren the price of the pie buses leaving on the hour with protest groups.

How do you picket a park bench?

WASHINGTON CALLING

by MARQUIS CHILDS

President And Admirals

In Unification Feud

WASHINGTON, March 27.—Between President Truman and the admirals who run the navy, something very like a feud is going on over unification of the armed services. It is an extraordinary spectacle, this tug-of-war between the commander-in-chief and the navy's top brass.

When the President declared unequivocally for unification of the army, navy and air forces in a common department of defense, the debate was supposed to end. He asked the admirals and the generals to accept this as policy, at least until Congress had time to act one way or the other.

Outwardly, the admirals have kept silent. But, as one official in the White House put it, they have gone underground. Their propaganda among members of Congress has continued unabated.

Sought Pauley Confirmation

It was against this background that the President was so eager for the confirmation of Edwin W. Pauley as under-secretary of the Navy. That phase of the Pauley nomination never came to light during the bitter controversy that ended with the withdrawal of Pauley's name after it was obvious he could not be confirmed. What lay behind the President's stubborn determination to put Pauley over has never been explained.

In the first place, he wanted someone in the Navy department who would be absolutely loyal to him. Pauley, the President believed, would be able to resist the blandishments and the persuasions of the admirals.

Secondly, the President believed that Pauley would have the ruthlessness, the drive and the capacity to push through unification in spite of the opposition of the men who wear the stars. He had been impressed with Pauley's performance as head of the preparations mission to Moscow. On this point, the President had the hearty support of W. Averell Harriman, then ambassador to Russia. Harriman, newly appointed ambassador to England, admires Pauley's drive and ability.

Unification Defeat

When Pauley was defeated, it was in one sense a defeat for unification. Or, at any rate, the going would be tougher for unification. The admirals have become extraordinarily bold. They do not hesitate to go to their allies on Capitol Hill to circumvent the expressed wishes of their commander-in-chief.

They have, of course, very important allies. One is Rep. Carl Vinson of Georgia, chairman of the House Naval Affairs committee, who has become through the years a kind of honorary admiral. He wears the uniform in spirit if not in actuality.

Chairman of the Senate Naval Affairs committee is Senator David I. Walsh of Massachusetts. Walsh is 73 years old. He is tired and indifferent. For this reason, he tends to follow the line of least resistance. The latest battle in the war between the White House and the Navy is over the size of the Navy's appropriation. The Navy's maneuvering in this matter has riled the President more than almost anything else that has happened during his year in the White House.

Much Considered

Over the Navy's postwar position and the amount of money it would take to finance it, the President spent a great deal of time. He devoted more care and thought to it than to any other budgetary problem.

The Navy had asked for $6,250,000,000. The President, with the aid of his staff in the Bureau of the Budget, cut this back to $3,900,000,000. Later, it was raised to $4,250,000,000.

The last figure represented the total the commander-in-chief believed adequate to maintain the Navy as a proper peacetime level. This computation is based on the relationship of the Navy to the other branches of national defense.

Immediately, a backstairs quarrel began. Budget Director Harold Smith insisted that, if Secretary of the Navy Forrestal and the admirals were to go directly to Congress to ask for the original sum, the whole system of Presidential budget-keeping would be jeopardized. Other departments would take this as a precedent and would run up to the Capitol with their own requests. Forrestal finally agreed not to testify for more money.

However, Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, chief of naval operations, did go before the perfect congressional sounding board. That was not the Appropriations committee but Vinson's Naval Affairs committee. Nimitz made it sound as though "the cut had been a bookkeeper's cut. That is, it is the present propaganda line of the clique of admirals who run the Navy. The President is hoping mad and the issue sooner or later will come to a showdown." (Copyright, 1946, United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

HINTS AND DINTS

Sun sets tonight 6:16. Sun rises tomorrow 5:55.

The U. S. Post Office Department is very skeptical. It has refused to believe that a Rhode Island man can cure hay fever in one sneeze and has held up permission to let his book at $1 per copy circulate through the mails.

Does the future look dark? Two to one you can't tell what dark outlook had you worried a year ago today.

Uncle Sam says that ten pairs of stockings is the most each woman can expect this year. We hear a lot of women who would be tickled if they could get one pair, so there must be some hope ahead for them.

As part of the food conservation program, the United States army will conserve all the food possible and the cooks will be forced to use left-overs. Maybe some New Castle housewives can get an idea or two from some of these army mess sergeants.

A local teacher was quizzing one of her pupils in history.

"Now, William," she asked, "who were the two strongest men in history?"

"Samson and Hercules," came the prompt answer.

"Well, can you tell me any more about them?" the teacher asked.

"Sure," replied William. "Samson was a regular Hercules."

Statistics reveal that out of every 100 men starting out in business at the age of 25, there will be 36 who will die before they reach the age of 65; 54 will be financially poor; and 10 will be independent. Which class do you belong in?

There are two kinds of people, good and bad. The classifying is always done by the good.

Each Jap is rationed to one cake of soap every three months. We don't imagine they will break into a lather because of this.

Looks like some of the barbers are trying to break into the big money class. Threats of a $1 haircut are being heard.

In a Dixie resort village a siren means a fire, an ambulance or a cop after a load of liquor.

The wife of a G. I. stationed in Rome, Italy, was so overcome at hearing her husband's voice over the telephone when he put a call thru to her she started to cry. "Say something," the G. I. yelled. "I can't," she wailed, and she didn't. We have heard of people who go that way when they get up to speak in front of a strange audience, but we didn't think it could happen over the telephone.

For the first time since the Civil War, carpet-baggers are being welcomed down south. The southerners don't care as long as the northerners bring the cash along, and it looks as though a lot of business is going that way.

According to the Sheep Hill Philosopher, young people are alike in a lot of respects.

"The most dangerous enemies against whom I must now protect my girls are those companions who preach the pernicious doctrine that boys will consider them back numbers unless they submit to promiscuous petting and take a drink whenever asked to."

"The very last bit of worldly wisdom a girl ever learns is that the sophisticated boys who wait girls on their decency and temperance are invariably the very one who are first to demand that their wives, like Caesar's wife, must always have been, from the cradle up, above suspicion."

Few of us have the wisdom to know the truth of this in our youth. "Gloria and Sylvia are lucky, indeed, in having a mother who has been through the mill and is able therefore, to save them from the pitfalls so many girls tragically encounter."

Question: What color flowers should the bride carry? Also the bridesmaids?

Answer: The bride should carry white flowers and the bridesmaids bouquets that harmonize with their dresses.

Present your problems to Miss Markel who will promptly mail personal replies to question from readers, including stamped, self-addressed envelopes.

Just a little over 50 years ago, General Jacob S. Coxey, now 92, led an army of 20,000 jobless to Washington to get the government to print them some more paper money.

The other day he was back again with the same question. He spent 20 days in jail in 1903, charged with tramping on the grass and he didn't get any more paper money. He wasn't arrested this time, but he didn't get any more money printed, either.

"No sir," replied the widow. "He wasn't insured."

Over in Japan, food is so scarce the Japs just sit around hoping to keep alive by moving as little as possible. Sort of enjoying their defeat, so to speak.

"What is the best hedge against inflation?" Audacious reader. You might assemble the gamblers and black marketers and show them a nook.

"Recipe for boarding house 'last': Make it hot, brown and crunchy; wait till it gets cold; serve."

Americanism: Giving a number of Distinguished Service medals to civilians; not giving a single one to the scientists whose brains won the war.

Bankers are urged to report big bills given to people who may be black marketers, but few do it. It seems too much like being an unpaid detective.

We don't survive because of brains. Federal and state taxes discourage the sale of margarine in order to "protect" butter, which you can't find.

"There is only one picture of the Judgement. In that final accounting, people are not judged by their righteousness, but by their treatment of others."

Often it was necessary to plant definite questions into quiet discussions to get the reaction of the majority who believe war can and should be averted. It was seldom necessary even to prime the belligerent non-combatants. Just look interested and they'd spout.

"It's gonna be us or the Russians. That's plain as the nose on your face," they'd exclaim with an undertaker's heartiness. "And we might as well get it over with now, while we can."

And at least twice I've heard such belated boys boom to a youth in uniform.

Looks like you guys are gonna have to go back over there and straighten them Russians out, too—hey?

It's pretty hard to take . . .

SWEET WARNING

Ah," said the doctor, long of face. Dealing with all the bangs of men.

"Go to your tasks at a slower pace. Remember, take all of the rest. Give to some bright, young lad you know. The labor of shoveling off the snow."

"Remember the warning that I give. When spring returns, and the cold days pass. If to a full life you would live. Never again must you, cut the snow."

You're now too old, and you're much too fat. Ever again to do work like that!

"Never again must you shovel snow. Never the grass, must you cut again!"

"Doctor," said I, "that is good to know. You've made me the happiest of men. For counsel like that I am glad to pay!"

And I laughed outright as I went my way.

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDEIS

Two recent news items throw a rather bright light on life in America, and what ails it. They are not related, yet they fit together.

At the Senate investigation of Edwin W. Pauley, as you know, Harold Ickes opposed the President's appointee violently.

Senator Tydings asked the Old Guard whether it was not true that he had entertained Pauley at luncheon and served him cocktails.

Ickes, our twentieth century Malaprop, replied: "Politics, you know. In politics sometimes there is a pretended affinity which doesn't exist."

The other item tells of former Governor of Minnesota Harold E. Stassen, who suggested that younger men should be chosen by the Republicans to represent the people.

Younger men, he thinks, understand the "absolute necessity of affirmative action. They know that a policy of drift can no more win the peace than it has won the war."

Governor Stassen is only 38 years old. Yet he distinguished himself as governor and as a naval officer. He thinks that at least 25 young Republicans will be elected to the House this year, and he hopes that they will bring the same zeal and courage into Congress that they showed in war service.

This is not a political article. Life is neither Democratic nor Republican. Life—as we live it or should live it—is American.

I don't think that older men have a place in our councils. But I don't think that a young man, eager to serve his country, whether it be in war or peace, whether as a soldier or a congressman, would have made Mr. Ickes' crack about the "pretended affinity in politics."

That is just what is wrong with our political life. Too much pretension and not enough sincerity. Too much before-election promising and too much after-election drifting.

Politics, above all things, should be sincere and honest and patriotic. Unfortunately a lot of our politicians—and particularly the older hardened ones—forget that every vote for them was a vote of confidence in them.

That's what I said in the beginning of this article. Youth is honest and courageous and optimistic and active.

Youth looks ahead. Youth is honest and courageous and optimistic and active.

I don't care how old you are in years—it's how old you are in spirit that determines your age.

When you begin to think that "pretended affinity" has a place in politics, then you are old—too old to stay in office.

Nothing is more to be desired than the fulfillment of Housing Expediter Wyatt's program for two million more hundred thousand homes in the United States within the next two years. Nobody will quarrel with the purpose, especially in view of the plight of thousands of homeless veterans.

But a casual look at price conditions impels a curiosity as to what sort of domicile Mr. Wyatt expects to provide under his Six Thousand Dollars ceiling. Assuming that materials in due time might become available at their low price ceilings on lumber, for example, prompt lumber men to export a large share of their products, how about prices of materials and labor?

The first rise in building costs, of course, comes in the form of a Five Dollar a ton boost in steel. This item covers many requirements even in ordinary construction. With the blanket wage boost proclaimed by the administration, and the allowance of compensatory increases in prices to producers, an automatic advance in the cost of other materials.

A wise man will always be contented with his condition, and will live rather according to the precepts of virtue, than according to the customs of his country.—Antisthenes.

From Me To You

By MESEALL

Things are flying in Cascade Park. It won't be long until it will be time to be going out for a picnic. A swim or just to look around. Plans were made during the winter to mark dark berry than ever this year. City council has promised to do all within their power to improve the swimming water condition, to have installed certain amusement attractions that will please both young and old. And the natural beauty of the tract of land of course will be there.

It seems that people of this community are becoming more and more recreational minded. It seems only a few years ago that when we mentioned ball parks and play grounds not much could be done. Now with the Mayor's Recreational Council, and their funds, which each one help make possible, things are going right along. Lieutenant Suber has done a mighty fine job and as soon as time and weather permits we are going to ask that chap to take us on a tour of inspection.

It's odd how every one likes to watch another work. Take the case of the chap who is operating a power shovel. Up our way they moved in such a piece of equipment. And the crowd that gathered to see how it was done, business men, lawyers, judge and newspapermen, retired and take-it-easy men. You would think that each one was just about ready to buy a power shovel and start out on his own. Well, it's true, the chap that operates such a piece of equipment is an artist and is just as fascinating to watch as the artist who puts his work down on canvas.

If and when building materials become plentiful again, there should be a big program here in New Castle. Buildings and homes both. But one thing we are a little short on, that is young mechanics of the building trades. In the past there has not been enough steady work to insure a chap of finishing his apprenticeship time. We have tried to learn the trade of carpenter, plasterer, brick layer or plumber. It's something to be concerned about.

West Virginia Senator Opposes Draft Extension

Declares Army Should Stick To Voluntary Recruitment Program

WASHINGTON, March 27.—(INS)—Sen. Revercomb (R) W. Va., opposing any lengthy draft extension, declared today the army should drop July 1 as a "must" target date for obtaining a force of one and a half million men.

Revercomb, a member of the senate military committee which plans to open hearings Thursday on extending the draft, said the war department should stick to its voluntary recruitment program at all costs. He observed:

"The quicker we resort to a volunteer army, the quicker we'll have it on that basis. It's a receding army after July 1, 1946, dropping from 1,500,000 men on that date to 1,070,000 men on July 1, 1947.

"If they can't get a million and a half men by July 1, let them get them by August or September—then start receding."

Revercomb joined with other committee members in unanimously voting to hold public hearings on the army's plan for a one-year extension of selective service and take a final vote on April 9—two weeks hence.

Secretary of War Patterson and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, chief of staff, were expected to head the list of witnesses. Both as well as Navy Secretary Forrestal and Secretary of State Byrnes, already have testified before the committee in closed session.

ials may be expected. Electric installation and equipment, glass paint, bricks, concrete, fixtures and plumbing all will rise in proportion—or near proportion—to wage advances for workers producing these materials. In addition, it is probable that the building trade union will insist on a minimum of eighteen and one-half cents an hour increase. Mr. Wyatt already has indicated that higher wages will be offered to recruit construction workers.

In view of the cumulative advance in labor and material costs it appears that the hopeful home builder will not receive a great deal for Six Thousand Dollars, whether the builder is an individual or Uncle Sam. The national building expeditor has a problem on his hands that may well baffle the wisest.

Local Navy Flier Gets Third Medal

Aviation Machinist's Mate Carl W. Jones Presented With Decoration Through Legion Post

Presentation of a gold star in lieu of a third Air Medal for his part in a strike against Japanese shipping in Indo-China, on June 5, 1945, was made to Carl W. Jones, of East Washington street, at last night's meeting of Perry S. Gaston Post, American Legion, in their social rooms on Neshaunock avenue. The presentation was made by District Commander A. Lewis Conn, in behalf of the U. S. Navy.

The citation accompanying the decoration, reads as follows: "For distinguishing himself by meritorious acts while participating in an aerial flight on June 5, 1945, as an aircrewman of a Navy Searcher Liberator in a two-plane strike against enemy installations in French Indo-China, he contributed to the destruction of three enemy merchant vessels under construction, the damaging of two others, damage to a radio station, destruction of an entire shipyard, and destruction of an enemy aircraft hanger, with a fighter-type aircraft therein. His skilled aircrewmanship, his aggressiveness, and devotion to duty, were in keeping with the highest traditions of the U. S. Naval Service."

Mr. Jones, who is now discharged from service, is employed at the Johnson Bronze Company. He had previously received two air medals for meritorious service against the enemy, the gold star being presented in lieu of a third air medal.

Apart 32 Years Couple Reweds

JOLIET, Ill., March 27.—Callis E. Moutry, 60, and his former wife, Grace, 55, renewing a romance broken by a 32-year separation which included a 28-year divorce are on their second honeymoon.

A Methodist church ceremony reunited the couple who first married in 1911, separated in 1914 and were divorced in 1918.

Both remarried and both subsequently were divorced from their second mates. Meanwhile, they had lost touch with each other.

Last January, however, Moutry learned that their son, Gerald, an Army private, had returned to his mother's home in Carbondale, Ill. Moutry wrote to his son, enclosing a picture of himself. On his son's invitation, Moutry went to Carbondale, where he saw his former wife then Mrs. E. E. Baker.

The two began preparations for another wedding. Mrs. Baker, who had been operating a school of beauty culture, sold the business. The couple will live in Joliet, where Moutry is a guard at the Illinois State Penitentiary.

POLICE CHIEFS APPEAL REFUSED

PITTSBURGH, March 27.—(INS)—The state supreme court yesterday refused the petition of Police Chief William C. Duerr, of Stowe township to appeal from a superior court decision affirming his conviction of involuntary manslaughter. The court is convening in Pittsburgh.

Duerr was convicted in February 1945 for the fatal shooting of two men in an automobile who he suspected as automobile thieves. It later developed that they were not the men sought.

The Stowe police chief was sentenced to serve two years for the mistaken killings.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Casa Savoia Auxiliary, a spaghetti dinner was planned by the organization to be held after the Lenten season. Further arrangements are to be made.

Mrs. Clotilda Ross, president, presided at the meeting held in the South Mill street club rooms. A donation was given to the Red Cross.

Later, Philip Frasso, president of the Savoia Society, spoke on the welfare of the organization. April 28, is the date for the next meeting.

Wants Rent Control To Be Continued

PITTSBURGH, March 27.—(INS)—Regional OPA Administrator Leo P. Gentner today maintained he hoped rent controls would be extended for at least five years.

Gentner, in an address before the Women's Anti-Inflation Conference in Pittsburgh, said real estate operators are seeking a lease in rents and the discontinuance of rent controls. He said:

"If OPA is not extended beyond its expiration date on June 30, there should be some control, either federal or state, for the next five years."

The OPA head refused to predict what congress would do in extending the life of OPA, but he did predict that the requested 15 per cent rent boost, asked by real estate operators, would be refused.

The State Police Say:

Under the motor laws a bicycle a ridden animal or a horse-drawn conveyance is considered a vehicle, and the operators or drivers of such vehicles are required to comply with traffic regulations in the same manner as operators of automobiles. Parents of children who ride bicycles should see to it that this regulation is obeyed.

"We are so good to our employees," usually means: "We give them turkey at Christmas and pay them half what they are worth."

Dock Worker Goes Berserk With Axe And Knife In Home

Kills Four-Month-Old Son, Wounds Wife And Six Children; Tries Suicide

NEW YORK, March 27.—(INS)—A 40-year-old father went berserk in his Brooklyn waterfront home today, beat his four-months-old son to death with an axe, slashed his wife and their six other children then stabbed himself with a long dock workers' knife.

Two other children saved themselves by hiding under the bed. The tragedy occurred in the home of Arthur Crehan, a dock worker by trade. In Cumberland hospital were Crehan, his wife, Theresa, 35; and their children, Helen, 18; Theresa, 17; Margaret, 15; Lawrence, 13; James, five and John, four.

The father, James and John were reported in critical condition.

The baby, Robert, was found dead under a blanket. His head had been crushed by a blow of the axe. Police were called after Helen, bleeding from axe and knife wounds, ran screaming to the home of her grandmother and cried "I'm going to die. Father is attacking us."

Detective James Maloney said when he picked up Crehan he was mumbling "I am sorry, I have done it."

Emergency Housing Bill Is Endorsed

Board Of Directors Of U. S. Chamber Of Commerce Approves Bill Before Committee

WASHINGTON, March 27.—(INS)—The board of directors of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce today endorsed the emergency housing bill as necessary to expedite homes for veterans, but opposed subsidies on building materials and equipment.

In a statement to the Senate banking and currency committee, the board proposed that to encourage production of materials and equipment Housing Expediter Wilson Wyatt make needed price adjustments authorized in the bill as passed by the House.

The board said:

"Material Priorities. The way to get houses which veterans and their families need and which deserve to be speeded up the production of building materials and meantime to give material priorities to dwellings which veterans will be given preference in purchase or rental."

"The emergency housing bill... now before the Senate banking and currency committee, gives the housing expediter ample authority to carry out these objectives. The bill authorizes him to allocate materials, to fix prices on new dwellings, and to direct the OPA to make such price adjustments as are necessary to stimulate the production of building materials."

The board said the bill should be promptly enacted and practical community and industry programs worked out to make it effective. The board pledged full support and co-operation to the housing expediter.

State's Detention Homes Criticized

Public Charities Association Criticizes Treatment Of Juveniles In Publication

PHILADELPHIA, March 27.—(INS)—The Public Charities association of Pennsylvania today criticized the treatment of juveniles in the state's detention homes.

An article in "The Herald", the association's national publication, declared that "on the whole, Pennsylvania's detention homes are not conducted on any uniform plan nor according to standards which apply to all of them."

"Only a few have facilities in the institution or access to facilities for the study of children, medically, psychiatrically, and psychologically," the article stated.

In addition, the association publication recommended that Pennsylvania's juvenile detention law should be "strengthened and more clearly expressed."

Leon T. Stern, secretary of the Penal Affairs committee, a branch of the association, supported the article's contentions by declaring:

"Pennsylvania has her share of poor jails which do not meet approved standards laid down by practical jail men and the Federal Bureau of Prisons."

"Children in them are not usually in direct association with adults and criminals, but despite the express provision in the juvenile court law prohibiting the placing of young children in jails or lock-ups, in some counties children awaiting hearing are held in jail."

Stars And Stripes Officer Is Ousted

ROME, March 27.—(INS)—Major Hal C. Kestler was ousted today as publication officer of the Stars and Stripes in the Mediterranean theatre, climaxing the long conflict between the army paper's staff and "brass hat" censorship.

Relief of Kestler by his superiors was followed immediately by protests from the entire staff of 51 enlisted men and three officers. All asked to be relieved from duty on the Stars and Stripes.

A Local Lady Spit Up Acid Liquids For Hours After Eating

For hours after every meal, a New Castle lady used to spit up a strong, acidulous liquid mixed with pieces of half-digested food. She says it was awful. At times she would nearly choke. She had stomach float, daily headaches and constant irregular bowel action. Today, this lady eats her meals and enjoys them. And she says the change is due to taking ERB-HELP. No gas, bloating or spitting up after eating. She is also free of headaches now, and bowels are regular, thanks to this Remarkable New Compound.

ERB-HELP contains 12 Great Herbs. They cleanse bowels, clear gas from stomach, act on sluggish liver and kidneys. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering! Get ERB-HELP. Sold by All Drug Stores here in New Castle.

TROUBLES PILE UP FOR CRONIN

PHILADELPHIA, March 27.—(INS)—Troubles piled up today for John J. Cronin, 40, who was placed under $3,000 bail on charges of passing three worthless checks at the Philadelphia Central Y. M. C. A.

Detectives said Cronin had little trouble cashing the checks, totaling $758, because at the time he was auditing the Y. M. C. A. books.

He reportedly admitted passing the checks to earn some money for a wedding trip, but left his wife shortly after the honeymoon.

Further investigation, however, showed Cronin had another wife in Trenton, N. J. She told the court she would not press the bigamy charge but wanted support for her and their two children.

SIXTY ATTEND YW DINNER FOR BUSINESS GIRLS

Theme Of 19th Annual Observance Tuesday Night Is 'World-Wide Responsibility'

Approximately 60 persons, members of the Y.W.C.A. business girls' clubs and their guests, attended a dinner in the green room of the Y.W.C.A. Tuesday evening, marking the nineteenth annual observance of the business girls' department.

Radio Script

The theme of this year's observance, "A World—My Privilege and My Responsibility," was expertly portrayed in a radio skit written by Shirley Cartwright and enacted by Shirley Turner, Helen Hazen, Phyllis Pugh, Dorothy Moore, Marjorie Headland, Juanita Jarvis, Betty Haynes, Hazel Ziegler, Norma Hamm, Verlee Mauermaier and Shirley Cartwright.

Both amusing and serious, the script combined clever satire of radio advertising and performances with skits which pointed out the significance of the life of business girls in other countries to the life of business girls here in America.

Guests Introduced

Mrs. Catherine Shaffer, newly elected president of the Business and Industrial girls' council, presided at the dinner, introducing the guests which included Miss Mary Scherger, president of the Business and Professional Women's club; ten members of the Y.W.C.A. board; officers of the clubs of both the central Y.W.C.A. and the Elm street branch, and the staff.

Group singing was led by Flo Owens and accompanied by Mrs. Gertrude Taylor Wilson. Following the dinner and preceding the radio skit, the guests were entertained with a solo sung by Miss Verlee Mauermaier, Miss Marian Ocham, who has just returned from a trip to the Y.W.C.A. convention in Atlantic City and her home in Pittsfield, Mass., composed a new song which was sung at the dinner.

Committee Members

The meal was prepared and served by members of the Italian Mothers' club. Members of the committee who arranged for the dinner and the program were: Mrs. Mabel Ballard, hostess; Betty Patten, program; Shirley Cartwright, greetings; Helen Hazen, publicity; Phyllis Pugh, exhibits; Rosa Brown, newspaper; Beulah Ruthrauff, decorations; Ann Blazak and Mary Ferrari, favors; Sally McConnell, place cards; Betty Hamm, hostess; Catherine Shaffer, tickets; Mildred Engel, music director; Flo Owens, pianist; Gertrude Wilson, program director; Marion Ocham, P. and P. chairman; Emily River, industrial chairman; Mrs. Rex Long.

Red Cross Drive Lagging In Mercer

MERCER, March 27.—Nevin Wilson, Red Cross chairman of area, which includes Mercer, reported $198.20 of the $4,800 quota had been collected in the current drive. The amount is only 27.7 per cent of the quota and everyone who has not yet contributed is urged to send donation in or to call the workers.

Donald C. Miller, chairman of Mercer project, reported that $789 of the $1,762 quota has been collected.

Coal Strike Will Hit Steel Mills

PITTSBURG, March 27.—(INS)—Western Pennsylvania steel mills will be among the first big industrial plants to feel the effects of a nation wide coal strike, it was disclosed today by an industry spokesman.

Some of the steel mills have a 10-day supply on hand while others will be able to operate about three weeks. U. S. Steel said they would curtail production operations almost immediately while J. & L. said they faced virtually the same problem.

Railroads and public utilities in the area reported that their stock piles would run about six weeks.

Y.W.C.A. Workers To Report On Drive Thursday Morning

First report of Y. W. C. A. "Membership Ingathering" workers will be given on Thursday morning at 11:30 following the first meeting of the Lenten Bible class.

Mrs. Ernest Stitzinger, membership chairman, has found the response encouraging so far, with many members sending in their contributions voluntarily. All workers are endeavoring to secure two or more new members from their own church or club group, and thus bring the total membership up to or above the 2,000 mark. The cash quota is $2,449.75.

Another goal of this year's drive, Mrs. Stitzinger adds, is to give every member an opportunity to become more active in Y. W. C. A. committees, clubs, or classes, and to encourage members to recruit and hostess church or neighborhood groups who would use the facilities of the Y. W. C. A.

Sandwiches and tea or coffee are being served to the workers by the members of the Central Presbyterian church team at noon Thursday, following the report meeting.

Government Food Officials Facing Export Problem

WASHINGTON, March 27.—(INS)—Government food officials are gravely concerned today as to whether the United States can meet its wheat, fats and oils commitments to the starving of Europe and Asia by the July 1 deadline.

Despite the immediate critical need for those scarce food items abroad, President Truman's famine emergency committee has ruled out rationing as impractical—at least for the time being.

The committee reached that conclusion after conferring with UNRRA and OPA officials on the feasibility of rationing. But Chester Davis, committee chairman, said that the group agrees "that there is no use talking about consumer rationing at this stage."

Davis also said that a suggestion of "cheerless days" was discussed by the emergency committee and was likewise rejected as inadvisable.

Stolen Lipstick Trouble Cause

SAN FRANCISCO, March 27.—(INS)—To some men, collecting lipstick is just an interesting hobby. But two San Francisco men are serving trial today on charges of acquiring "hot" lipstick valued at $600. FBI agents said the pair, George Smith, 45, and Armand Amerogel, 26, received the stolen lipstick from a third man still sought as an actual thief.

The lipsticks had been shipped to San Francisco from New Jersey. Smith and Amerogel were released on $2,500 bail each pending trial.

Brand Regime Of Franco As Menace

PARIS, March 27.—(INS)—Spanish Republican officials were informed by the Polish ambassador to Paris today that the Polish cabinet has passed a resolution branding the regime of Generalissimo Franco a "menace to peace."

The Polish ambassador said the note appealed to the governments of all democratic nations to take measures toward the re-establishment of a Spanish republic.

"GLACIER PRIEST" NOT CONCERNED ON RUSSIA WAR

PHILADELPHIA, March 27.—(INS)—Rev. Bernard Hubbard, the "Glacier Priest" who recently returned from Europe, maintained today he is "not the least bit concerned" about the prospect of a war with Russia.

Hubbard told a lecture audience he believed the Russians would discredit Communism and that "freed from their diabolical leaders, will become human beings."

Huge airplanes dropping mail order catalogues of United States firms on Russian cities would soon show the Russians their five-year-plans have left them 50 years behind the times, he said.

NEWS OF MEN AND WOMEN IN U. S. SERVICE

Pvt. Michael R. Russo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael A. Russo, of 706 Pearson street, is home on an eight-day leave from Camp McClelland. He will report to a new destination on completion of his stay here.

Edward B. Fell, CMCMM, R. D. 1, New Castle, has received his discharge from the naval service at Bremerton, Wash.

Someone sent 100 chicks to President Truman collect. The President turned down the peep-peepers proving he is a man who can resist not only one drumstick but 2,000 of em.

Governor Wants State Control In Aviation Program

Asks Opposition To Government Dealing Directly With Political Subdivisions

HARRISBURG, March 27.—(INS)—Gov. Edward Martin was determined today to maintain commonwealth supervision of a proposed federal-state aeronautics program. The chief executive has asked Pennsylvania's congressional delegation to oppose federal legislation proposing that the federal government deal directly with political subdivisions when granting aid for airport development. He asked them to support a plan whereby one agency in the state would handle federal grants. The direct aid plan was recommended by a congressional conference committee last week. The program calls for expenditure of $650,000,000 throughout the nation. State Secretary of Commerce Floyd Chalfant reported that similar telegrams had been sent to Pennsylvania congressmen by the state aeronautics commission and the commission on interstate co-operation. He is chairman of both organizations. "We are going to bat on this public works airport program," Chalfant stated. "It is a fight that is being waged by all states for proper recognition in the program." The state's $34,512,000 10-year postwar aviation program, which dovetails with the Federal plan, would be handled under the proposed arrangement, Chalfant declared. No share of the federal funds has yet been earmarked for the Keystone state. "Any federal aid should be channeled through a state agency which handles distributions of state funds," he declared. "That has always been the pattern of procedure and should be followed in this instance." Strong opposition to the measure in its present form was being offered by "important Democrats" in the state, he added. Co-operation would be "100 per cent because it's a non-partisan issue," he said.

UNIFORM GROWTH DESIRED IN CHICKS

Four factors—breeding, rations, management, and health—determine the rate of gains made by growing chicks, and careful watch on all of them will contribute to the uniform development of the young birds. Uniform development can be upset by overcrowding, too little space for feeding and watering, and quarters that are too hot and dry. Very dry air dehydrates the tissues of the birds. Many broiler growers report their birds make faster gains if the litter in the houses is slightly damp rather than extremely dry. Disease is another factor which can upset the even growth of the flock since different birds of the same age and strain may react differently to ailments common to young chicks.

Coast Guard Strong Man Removes Safe Weighing 265 Lbs.

PHILADELPHIA, March 27.—(INS)—A Coast Guard "super-man" today found himself in a mess of trouble—and all because he was too strong. Six-foot Gunners Mate Edward W. Mianowski, 30, of Philadelphia was held in $1,000 bail charged with single-handedly removing a 265-pound safe from a Coast Guard office, lifting it into his car, and hauling it away. Mianowski, veteran of six amphibious operations in the European theater and one in the Pacific, spent 30 months overseas. He was charged with breaking into the Philadelphia Coast Guard office where he has been stationed and removing the safe. U. S. Commissioner Norman J. Griffin said the safe was smashed open and later tossed into the Delaware river. Its contents—$491—were recovered from Mianowski, Griffin reported.

'American Culture' Started In 1939 But No Student Takes It

Westminster Installs New Course Before War: Still Awaiting First Major

NEW WILMINGTON, March 27.—Although the college major was instituted eight years ago, Westminster College has still to graduate a student with a bachelor of art degree in American Culture. The faculty approved an advisory committee's recommendation for such a program March 9, 1938. Thirty-two similar programs have been organized throughout the United States, including such universities as Harvard, Princeton, and Brown. War slowed down the program in many universities but at Westminster the course never did gain momentum. Cooperative in nature, an American Culture program would provide background in American literature, art, music, economics, religion, history and government. Not only is the major designed to give the student a better understanding of our nation's culture but it is of value to anyone interested in America's responsibilities as a world power. When drawing up the program, the advisory committee recommended that the four-year program consist of 36 hours of major subjects. A thesis was also among the requirements for graduation. The faculty is still willing to make provisions for the program in the newly installed divisional setup.

Indicate Lowest Potato Planting Record In State

HARRISBURG, March 27.—(INS)—Pennsylvania farmers today intended to plant the lowest potato acreage in 72 years. The state agriculture department reported that according to late winter surveys only 140,000 acres would be reserved for potatoes, 10 per cent lower than last year. Decreases of seven per cent in barley and five per cent in soybean plots also were anticipated. Secretary Miles Horst said increased averages in corn, spring wheat, oats and tobacco were expected, he added. "The production decline, together with a previously announced estimate of nearly four million bushels less winter wheat to be harvested this summer, means a rather serious reduction in our overall food production," Horst declared. "Farmers are unable to plant more acres than they can get labor and machines to handle," he said. The estimated potato planting is nine per cent under the 1946 goal. The national potato acreage was expected to be 54 per cent below last year.

Farm Supervisors Of Mercer Offices Get New Positions

MERCER, March 27.—The Farm Security office in Mercer will lose two of its personnel Friday, when its supervisors answer the call to positions in Pittsburgh and Washington. Bruce I. Ifft supervisor who returned in November to his desk after four years as a lieutenant in the Navy, will start his month's training course with the Veterans administration, preparing to become assistant training officer. He will train at the Pittsburgh office and then be given an office of his own in western Pennsylvania. Mr. Ifft left the local FSA office in 1941 after almost a year's affiliation, and joined the relocation office at Geneva, prior to entering the Navy. Miss Irene Harper, FSA supervisor (home), has accepted a position as dietitian with Government Services Inc. in Washington, D. C. The company, which has a large chain of cafeterias including many in government buildings, is not a federal-operated agency.

FAIR PLAY OUR POLICY ON NEW CAR DELIVERIES!

IN COOPERATION with the Ford Motor Company, we are making every effort to give earliest possible delivery of new cars to our patrons, according to the fairest method we have been able to devise. ●● During the current shortage, when there are not enough new cars for all who want them, we are filling orders for new cars on the basis of first come first served. There are two important exceptions to this rule:

1. We are definitely reserving a substantial percentage of our cars to supply those who have served in the armed forces. This we feel is simple justice and conforms with public interest and fair play.

2. If emergency need for a new car is a factor, as in the case of doctors and nurses, we will, in the public interest determine priority according to the now abolished but publicly accepted OPA priority lists.

●● We believe these delivery policies are in your interest. We will use every care to see that the procedure works fairly and that exceptions to the rule of first orders delivered first are made only in genuinely deserving cases.

●● Both in the matter of increasing production and speeding delivery, the Ford Motor Company and we ourselves are making every effort to get your new car in your hands promptly and fairly. We want to assure you that the '46 Ford is out in front in everything and is well worth waiting for.

MRS. ROOSEVELT SPEAKS

SAN FRANCISCO, March 27.—(INS)—Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt today urged America to set standards and values which will lead to a world where "all people can live in peace, worship in peace and work for their own happiness."

Her plea was made when she addressed 3,000 persons attending a Jewish welfare fund drive meeting. The widow of the late president declared: "I feel a very keen sense of responsibility for the fact that we could have prevented much if we had been willing to risk our own safety in saving the world from the destruction of the last war and Europe from human misery beyond anything that we can possibly conceive."

Pennsylvania has 28,828,000 acres of land, about 6,000,000 under cultivation on farms. Grandpappy Jenkins says that's nothing—no matter what kind of grass seed he uses it always grows up as weeds.

REVOCATION MODIFIED

In an opinion handed down by Judge W. Walter Braham, the revocation of the New Castle Tavern revoked on April 10, 1945 by the Liquor Control Board is modified to a suspension to last until April 30, 1946.

Judge Braham gave his reasons for the modification of the revocation as follows: The license was held jointly held by Joseph J. Exposito and Gennaro Exposito, at 632 South Mill street. Joseph Exposito conducted the business from 1936 to 1943
when he went into the Marines.
During his absence there were violations and the Liquor Control Board revoked the license. Judge Braham holds that since Joseph Ex-posito was in the South Pacific when the violations occurred he had no control over the place and his moral guilt is not so clear as his legal responsibility.

Judge Braham said in his opinion that he makes the modification reluctantly inasmuch as the violations were clear and irrefragably the board should receive the support of the courts. However, he feels that the Soldiers and Sailors' Relief Act permits the modification and thus leave the way open for Joseph Exposito to apply for a license when the present term expires on April 30, 1946.

Deny Japanese Forces Landed On Coast During War

SAN FRANCISCO, March 27.—
(INS)—The U. S. Sixth Army, with headquarters at the San Francisco Presidio, on Tuesday officially denied that hostile Japanese forces ever landed on the Pacific Coast in November, 1943.

The denial came after Kenneth Hammaker, former Civilian Defense official, told a political gathering in Stockton, Calif., that 12 to 15 Japs were landed 15 miles north of San Francisco, apparently from a submarine, and were promptly captured by troops from the Western Defense Command.

The denial was issued as a statement from headquarters.

Shortest Supply Of Meat Is Faced In Next Six Months

WASHINGTON, March 27.—(INS)—
A representative of the National Livestock Producers Association told a congressional committee Tuesday that the nation faces its shortest supply of meat in the next six months.

H. M. Conway of Chicago, association director of research, painted a bleak picture of meat conditions before the house agriculture committee, coupled with a plea for the abandonment of meat subsidies and price controls.

He emphasized these points:
1. The "bulk" of the meat in the nation is being sold on the black market. 2. Grade standards have broken down. 3. Price ceilings generally over the country are not enforced. 4. "Throughout the country there is a general disregard for control measures." 5. The livestock and meat industry faces a "chaotic condition." 6. "There is nothing to do but to remove price ceilings on livestock and meat and eliminate all subsidies in the livestock and meat industry."

Second Woman Is Slain By Prowler In Louisville, Ky.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 27.—
Police hunted a murderous prowler today after they found the body of a woman with a crushed skull in her home Tuesday, ten days after a similar slaying.

The body of Miss Lena Bush, 39, was discovered on a bed in her home after police received an anonymous phone call. She had been dead 24 hours.

Her home is 11 blocks from the apartment of Mrs. Martha Frances Allison, who was slain by a prowler
the night of March 15.

Police said the slayer in both cases entered through a rear unlocked door and apparently crushed the skull of his victims with a brick.

Now we learn that Allied inventors during the war tinkered with the idea of converting icebergs into aircraft carriers. However, it seems the military turned the idea down cold.

Plans Furthered For Stelle Event

Perry S. Gaston Post Heads
Plans For Annual National Commander's Banquet

TO BE OUTSTANDING LEGION ACTIVITY

Plans for the annual National Commander's banquet of the American Legion, were furthered by Perry S. Gaston Post, American Legion, at its meeting in the post's social rooms on Neshannock avenue, Tuesday evening. Plans were also outlined for a real membership campaign which will bring the post to the forefront in membership when district commander A. Lewis Conn revealed that the Ambridge post is out in front in district membership.

A big social meeting has been carded for next Tuesday evening, April 2, in the social rooms of the post, which it is planned to make a monthly feature.

Committee Named

Commander Leon A. Drumm named a committee consisting of John R. Hodge, George P. Winter, Jr., C. C. Sweesy, A. Lewis Conn, David P. McBride and Manning Weller, to make arrangements for this event.

The post's membership now stands at 1129, membership chairman Gene Schweineberg reports.

Employment Chairman Ralph T. Jordan of the U. S. Employment Service gave some interesting figures, showing that 3,350 original applications for employment have been received from discharged veterans. Those who are unable to find employment can apply and receive $20 per week unemployment compensation for a year, Jordan stated.

Following the business meeting, three reels of talking pictures were shown by R. H. Junk of the Bell Telephone Company, at Pittsburgh, showing new developments in the telephone industry, and some of the things the telephone company did to speed the winning of the war.

U.N.O. Secretary's Family Enjoying Peacetime U.S.

NEW YORK, March 27.—(INS)—While Trygve Lie, secretary general of U.N.O., wrestles with world problems out on the Hunter College campus, his wife and three completely beautiful daughters are accustoming themselves to the wonders of a peacetime America.

The phone in the Waldorf Towers apartment of the Norwegian family rings constantly. Every hostess in town would like to grace her social gatherings with the charming wife and decorative daughters of the secretary general.

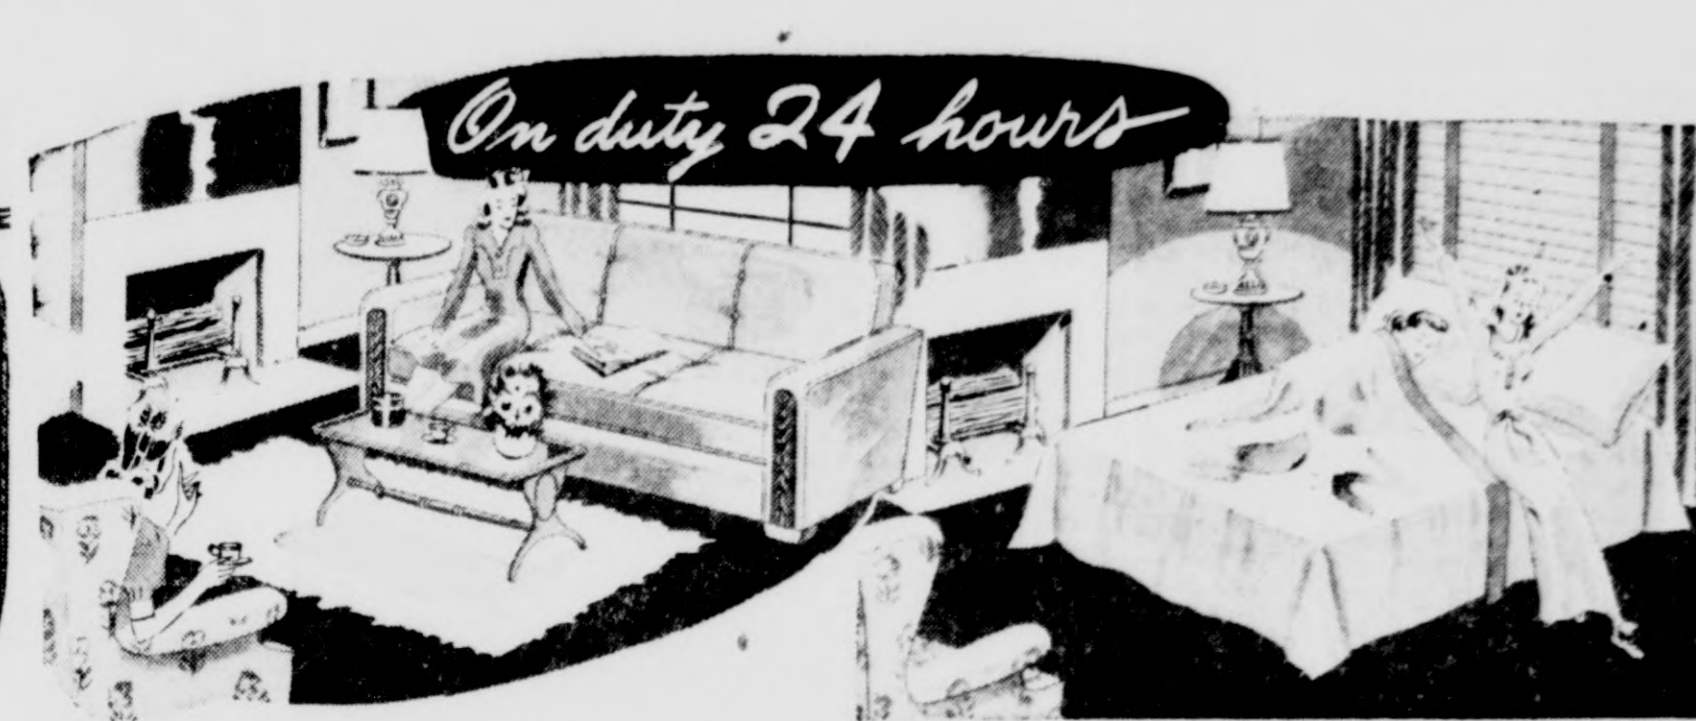

As one hostess giggled: "What a find! And to think they all speak such bee-ni-tiful English."

But Mama Lie and her daughters are primarily a family loving lot who have turned a hotel suite into a home with balls of yarn and knitting needles on the 18th century table.

Despite the welter of responsibilities and endless social blowouts that go along with the new job, these are happy days for the Lie family.

Too Early To Say If Withdrawal Of Reds Is Permanent

LONDON, March 27.—(INS)—The Tehran correspondent of the London Daily Mail said today "it is too early to say whether permanent evacuations (of red army troops) really have started."

The Tehran dispatch said: "Similar troop movements have been noted before. They have proven inconclusive. Even if the Russians totally withdraw from Persia they could overrun the country in a week against only the Persian army."

The dispatch added that "most of the wholly-capped people in this city of drossies and caviar believe the withdrawal of Russian troops means the end of Persia's troubles is in sight."

"Less wishful thinkers, however, wonder how much of this optimism really is justifiable."

Non-Production Workers Enter Electric Plant

Approximately 700 Enter Westinghouse Plant As State Police Stand Guard

PITTSBURGH, March 27.—(INS)—Bitter verbal attacks were flung at approximately 700 non-production workers as they poured into the Westinghouse Electric corporation plant in East Pittsburgh today under the protection of the Pennsylvania state police.

No trouble was reported from nearly 1,000 strikers who gathered along the streets adjacent to the buildings.

The public address system, ordered shut down yesterday by a deputy sheriff, today was back in operation.

As the supervisors, foremen and "white collar" workers entered the plant they were subjected to cat-calls and booing. Some were nudged and shouldered. Most of the workers entered the main gate by automobile. Only a few walked through the lines.

Tension continued to mount between strikers and non-strikers as nearly 250 troopers maintained surveillance over the crowd.

HEADLESS MAN CAUSING WORRY WAS ONLY DUMMY

PHILADELPHIA, March 27.—(INS)—The fears of several alarmed Philadelphians, who swore they saw a headless man painting a sign, were eased today, but the decapitated artist went right on with his brush work.

Traffic halted as the headless fellow stood atop a high scaffold on a billboard, painting an automobile. But today, the automobile firm below the sign came up with an explanation.

The poor guy it seems, is a dummy. Twice he had been kidnapped by youngsters and replaced. The third time the kids took only his head.

PICKETING BACK TO NORMAL STAGE AT TWO PLANTS

PITTSBURGH, March 27.—(INS)—Picketing was back to normal today at the gates of two strike-bound plants in Pittsburgh when strikers abruptly ceased massing about the plants after a one-day "solidarity demonstration."

A spokesman for the Dravo Corporation's Neville Island plant reported that picketing by the company's 1,500 CIO-shipbuilders was back to "normal."

CIO-scientific workers at the Fisher Scientific company picketed the building in "usual numbers."

Pickets at both plants made no effort to prevent non-production workers from entering.

HE'S LITTLE SOURED ON GOLDEN RULE

UPPER DARBY, Pa., March 27.—(INS)—Warren Watermyer, 46, of Upper Darby, was a little soured today on the golden rule.

Watermyer told police he met two sailors in a Philadelphia railroad station last night, and believing the boys might enjoy some home cooking, invited them to dinner.

After the meal they talked until about midnight, he said, when the boys prepared to leave.

As he escorted them to the door, they knocked him down and stole his wrist watch and small amount of money, he told police.

Beware Coughs Following Flu

After the flu is over and gone, the cough that follows may develop into chronic bronchitis if neglected. Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and its nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

REPORT MEASLES EPIDEMIC DUE IN STATE DURING YEAR

HARRISBURG, March 27.—(INS)—The state health department reported today that a measles epidemic was imminent in Pennsylvania this year.

"Past history shows that measles epidemics occur in cycles of three years and this is the third year in the cycle," officials stated.

They said 900 cases a week were reported in Philadelphia and predicted the peak was yet to come. The record was 125,536 cases in the state during 1938, it was reported.

Enough immunization serum—globulin—has been distributed by the biological divisions to protect 4000 persons, officials said, but the shipments filled only 30 per cent of demands.

Meanwhile an outbreak of diphtheria was being battled in Chester. Fourteen cases, including one fatality, were reported between February 16 and March 22, officials said. Enough anti-toxin was sent to immunize 105 persons as well as treat the disease, they added.

PITTSBURGH, March 27.—(INS)—Arbitration hearings between the Duquesne Light company and its independent union were ended in Pittsburgh today following a one-day extension to allow two witnesses to appear for the union.

A decision on the wage dispute is to be handed down before March 31.

Calls Upon Americans To Meet
Challenge Of "Global War Against Hunger"

WASHINGTON, March 27.—(INS)—President Truman called upon the American people to meet the challenge of the "global war against hunger" with a stern warning that hungry people make poor disciples of democracy.

In a message to opening sessions of the National Garden Conference on Tuesday delivered by Secretary of Agriculture Anderson, Mr. Truman said:

"The great conflict is over, but this is no time to let up—not while hunger stalks the world. Food today is the most sought after commodity in the world.

"Literally millions of human beings in Europe and Asia are dying or are on the verge of starvation from the lack of it."

Now Challenged
The President continued: "We are now challenged to help win this global war against hunger. Hungry people make poor disciples of democracy. Food is still one of the most vital weapons in securing a lasting and stable peace."

Mr. Truman asked American Victory Gardeners to continue their efforts, and added: "Every pound of food eaten fresh from the garden or preserved for use next winter will release an equivalent amount of food to be shipped to the starving millions."

Meanwhile former President Herbert Hoover was disclosed to have cabled a lengthy report to the famine emergency committee on food conditions in France and Italy.

PITTSBURGH, March 27.—(INS)—Mrs. Stella Gerber, 35-year-old McKeesport mother of three who fatally bludgeoned her small daughter Judith with a telephone, was adjudged mentally deranged and committed to the State hospital at Woodville for treatment.

Dr. Edward E. Mayer and Dr. Rodney H. Klefer, of the Pittsburgh Behavior Clinic, said the woman suffered from a progressive mental illness since she was 18 and showed no signs of remorse for her deed.

Ralph W. Segerstrom, owner of Dandell Kennels, Long Lake, Minn., says: "My Black and Tan terrier, Great Dan, is breeding stock in fine condition. They get GRO-PUP every day. I start my puppies on GRO-PUP, too, and they're strong, healthy and full of vigor."

MOST breeders and veterinarians use and recommend a foundation diet of good dry dog food fed with scrap meat, including fat. So many feed Kellogg's GRO-PUP because it provides all the vitamins and minerals dogs are known to need for growth and vigor.

Kellogg's GRO-PUP is thrifty. And dogs love its hearty, meaty flavor.

New Ambassador
Will Seek To Learn
Russia's Motives

FRANKFURT, March 27.—(INS)—Lieut. Gen. Walter Bedell Smith, new U. S. ambassador to Moscow, arrived in Frankfurt Tuesday in a hopeful attitude but with a warning that the United States now is determined to find out Soviet Russia's motives.

The former chief of staff to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower said:

"The first thing I shall do when I see Premier Stalin is to make it clear there have been great changes in America's attitude toward Russia."

"There is a great feeling as to what Russia wants and what her motives are, and we want her reassurance that she is as determined as we are to make the UNO a potent agency for world peace."

Gen. Smith said there must be a certain amount of "give and take" on both sides, and both the Soviet Union and the United States must honestly trust one another and have the same appreciation of the other's problems, "as Gen. Eisenhower always pointed out."

The new envoy said he believed the situation was "definitely looking better" as the result of Russia's revised attitude regarding Iran.

Henrietta Scold, before her death in 1945, was head of the Youth Aliyah (immigration into Palestine) movement and was known as the "mother of the motherless" by more than 17,000 Jewish children rescued and taken to Palestine from Europe by her organization.

PROTECT YOUR CAR AGAINST CORROSION

Rust is only one of several actions trying to destroy your car underhandedly. The corrosive effect of road salts and the abrasive action of flying gravel are also extremely destructive. Even in normal times it would pay to armor the underbody of your car with 3-M Underbody Protective Coating. It is a hundred times more important today when so many metal parts are irreplaceable.

Says Peacock's Tail Offers Job For Skillful Veteran

"When the Peacock Sheds Its Tail" isn't just a book title to Mrs. R. D. Walter; it's an opportunity. For Mrs. Walter of Lowellville, R. D. 2 happens to have a peacock, and a peacock too—and when the male bird sheds his four feet of wide-spread, richly colored tail his owner will have a pile of feathers on her hands that could be used to good advantage.

It seems that the feathers are in good demand among fishermen, for use in "trout flies"—that is, if the fishermen are skillful enough to make the artificial bait themselves. The trouble is, most people can't do it, and those who have this particular talent have a practically unlimited market for their wares.

Veteran Might Have Skill
"So," says Mrs. Walter, "I read that they are wanting veterans and aviators for disabled veterans and I thought that instead of letting someone else have these feathers, I would see that they went to some veteran who might get pleasure out of making the flies and profit out of selling them. I understand that the job is rather complicated."

Complicated it is. In fact, Mrs. Walter's remark is an understatement. Most fishermen declare "The process" demands steady nerves, some slight understanding of insect biology, and, above all else, patience.

The stems of the feathers are stripped clean, split into slender segments and then used in making artificial lures by means of some process known only to the fly-making experts. Many other materials may be used, but peacock feathers, so these same experts say, are especially satisfactory.

Long Time, No Tail
Mrs. Walter's peacock will shed his tail sometime in August, and will not regain his full glory until Christmas time. That's a long time to be without a tail, especially when the poor bird had to wait two whole years before he had his grown-up plumage.

The Walters formerly had about ten of the peacocks, but the birds all died with the "blackhead." Now one lonely pair strut around the yard—the male with a bright blue breast and brilliant tail, and the female dressed in modest gray.

The peahen usually lays about five eggs which take about four weeks to hatch, Mrs. Walter says. According to the books, the young peacocks should be raised on wire screen, but this particular mama hen has her own ideas about where her offspring shall grow up. She makes her nest away from the house—so far away and well-hidden that sometimes the chicks are a week old before anyone finds the nest.

U.C.T. Members Plan Banquet

Marking the fortieth year of the organization of the local chapter 408 of the United Commercial Travellers, a banquet will be held in the Castleton Hotel Saturday night, March 30, at 6:30. It was announced today.

Harry L. Thomas has been named chairman of the arrangements committee, with W. C. Wright, W. R. Campbell and J. W. Anderson serving with him.

Grand Counsellor Howard Summers of Allentown is expected to be present along with James G. Daly, editor of the UCT magazine, and Walter L. Walker of Erie, supreme secretary.

Sixty candidates will be initiated with the Butler degree team exemplifying the degrees.

Order Of Ahepa Plans Celebration

Members of the New Castle Chapter 87, Order of Ahepa, will hold a victory celebration and initiation Sunday, March 31, in St. George Greek Orthodox church, with District Governor Dr. Aris Carpanos and other high Ahepa officials present. Several candidates will be initiated in the afternoon session.

In the evening a Victory ball will be held in the recreation rooms of the church with the proceeds going to the present campaign in the United States for funds to build a 1000-room hospital in Athens, Greece.

Peter Brown is the general chairman of the affair.

FALSE ALARM SUSPECT HELD

PHILADELPHIA, March 27.—(INS)—West Philadelphia firemen today hoped for a decrease in the number of false alarms—there have been 20 in the last two weeks—following the arrest of a suspect.

Patrolman Thomas E. Bradley made the arrest after he saw a man in civilian clothes emerge from a taproom and pull a firebox. Bradley testified the suspect kicked him as he tried to arrest him.

The suspect, Harold G. Wright, 31, was held in $400 bail and suspended from his job.

The job? Wright is a policeman with 24 years service on the force.

Princess Enjoys Dance Program

LONDON, March 27.—(INS)—Princess Elizabeth Alexandra Mary of England, Democratic heiress to the throne of William the Conqueror, rumbled to the hot Latin-American music of Ambrose's orchestra until three o'clock this morning.

She also gambled and belted. The 19-year-old daughter of George VI night-clubbed at Ciro's after attending an opera ballet.

Her host was 24-year-old Lord Saint Just, a king's royal rifle corps lieutenant wounded in action. Six others were included in the royal party.

The Princess called for her favorite tunes including "Sur Le Pont D'Avignon."

FIREMEN CALLED TO AUTO FIRE ON ELLWOOD ROAD

Catching fire just after it had been driven into White's Service station on the Ellwood City road, a Ford automobile owned by Sylvester Newton was damaged slightly Thursday afternoon.

Silencing counter firemen were called to the service station at 12:30 and were able to extinguish the blaze in a short time.
